

Scientists have to unwrap the 4.5 billion-year-old samples from NASA's OSIRIS-REx (Origins, Spectral Interpretation, Resource Identification and Security – Regolith Explorer) in special chambers to keep them pristine and to avoid contamination from Earth. OSIRIS-REx brought samples of the asteroid Bennu back to Earth on September 24, 2023.